BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF FROM THE OFFICE OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

March 17, 2011

Avon Protection Systems Expansion

Avon Protection Systems held a ribbon cutting on March 8th, unveiling the 16,000 sq. ft. expansion of its North American Headquarters in Belcamp. The company designs, develops and manufactures chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear (CBRN) respiratory equipment for military, first responders and federal agencies worldwide. In 2000, Avon won one of the largest personal protective equipment DoD contracts in history. <http://www.avon-protection.com/>

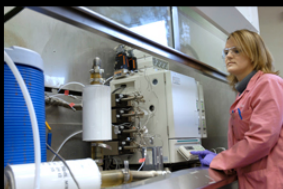

SHAW Environmental & Infrastructure, Inc. Wins Contract

SHAW Environmental & Infrastructure, Inc., in Edgewood, was awarded a $17,653,737 firm-fixed-price, requirements contract last month. The award will provide for labor, personnel, supervision, administration, materials, equipment tools and transportation necessary to perform public works functions in various areas throughout Alaska. Work will be performed in Fort Wainwright, Alaska, with an estimated completion date of February 2012.

Telcordia Moves to North Gate Business Park

Telcordia Technologies will open two new regional offices in Harford County and at University of Maryland, Baltimore County. Telcordia is moving its Waters Edge location in Belcamp to the North Gate Business Park in Aberdeen. The company's focus will be on assisting Army research, development and engineering command. <http://www.telcordia.com>

E-Moxie Growing in Harford

E-Moxie Data Solutions, Inc., a Harford County-based website design firm will move from its 850 sq. ft. office in Fallston to a 4,500 sq. ft. office in Havre de Grace in April to accommodate its aggressive growth strategy, which calls for doubling its current staff by the end of 2011. E-Moxie is dedicated to helping clients establish a successful online presence through compelling and effective website design, development, marketing and promotion. <http://www.e-moxie.com>
